

HOME DESIGNS

THE QUEENSLAND HOUSING COMMISSION

FOREWORD.

This Booklet of designs of dwellings is issued for the guidance of those who desire to acquire their own homes through the Commission.

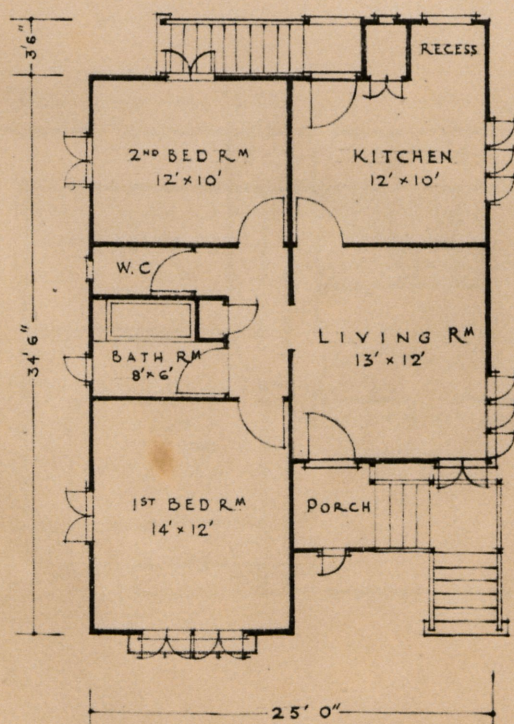

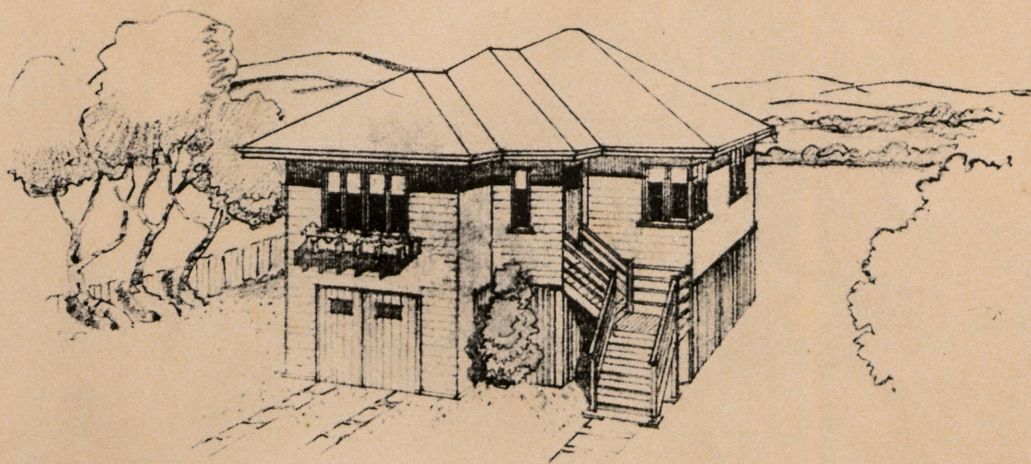

Whilst there are sufficient designs included herein to provide an intending home owner with a reasonably wide range in selecting a home, no particular design need be accepted as it stands and the Commission's Architects will be glad to fully discuss details with, and advise prospective clients with a view to providing plans which suit individual requirements.

With a background of over 20,000 houses provided in the State, the Commission is well equipped to advise on all points connected with domestic architecture, and will be pleased to co-operate with intending home owners in their objective of securing their ideal home.

Simplicity of construction is the dominant note of all the designs, the purpose being to obtain a dwelling at the minimum initial cost, and one which will entail the lowest subsequent costs of maintenance.

The Commission's specifications, and the service of ensuring by frequent inspections during construction that such specifications are complied with, are designed to ensure to a client that his interests are fully protected.

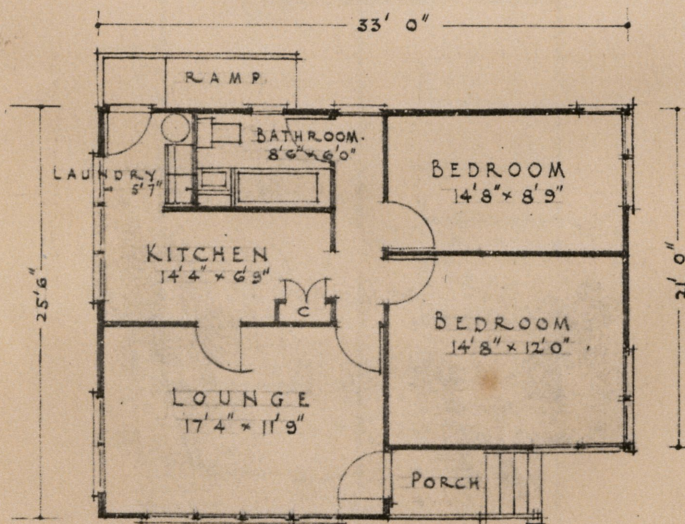

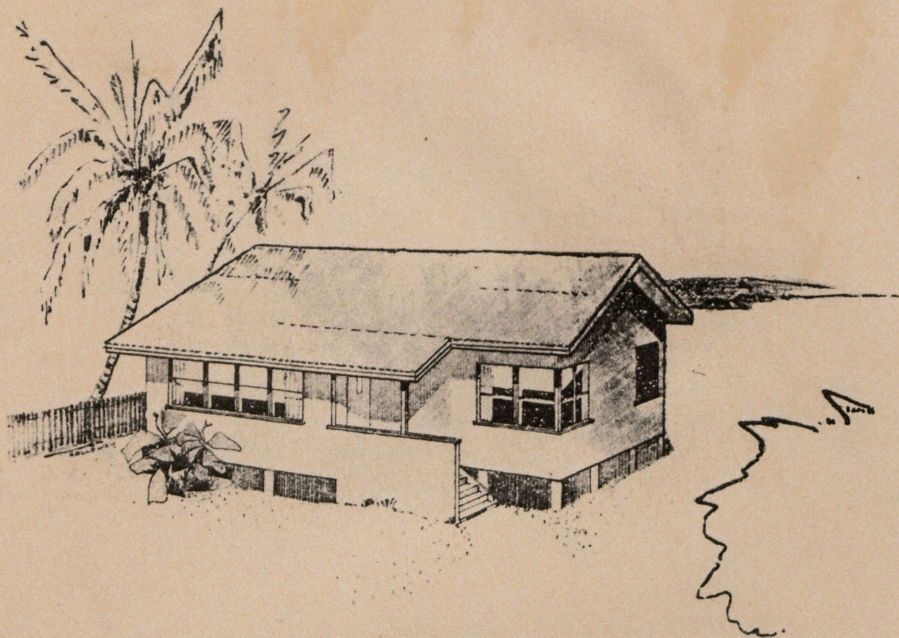

W. J. YOUNG,
Commissioner of Housing.
